THE SAME OLD SONG

The ultimate coffee experience

Italy shows no sign of slowing down as the Open series reaches the halfway mark. They are now more than match clear of second placed Hungary, who have a handy lead over third placed Norway. Sweden, Ireland and the Netherlands complete the top six.

With three emphatic victories Germany has cruised to the top of the Women's table ahead of the Netherlands and England. Thursday's overnight leaders Denmark, the first of Germany's victims yesterday now share fourth place with Ireland. The biggest surprise so far has been the wretched form of Russia & Sweden.

In the Seniors you can cover the first three teams, Denmark, Turkey and Sweden with a postage stamp.

Tasty, Not Expensive, Not Far!

There is a cafe at the playing area in the Palace of Culture & Science located between the Open & Closed Rooms that has been opened especially for the Championships.

You can try some typical Polish specialities as well as European dishes. Prices are very moderate and given the short interval between matches it is the ideal spot to visit. There have already been numerous recommendations!

SENIORS TEAMS

Round 2

France v Denmark

by Jos Jacobs

The reigning Seniors Champions Denmark had begun these Championships by drawing with Sweden. As Sweden went on to beat Italy 20-10 they presented themselves as a team to be reckoned with. This will be kept in mind but first of all we are focussing on France, generally considered another serious contender for the title. As it happened, they hit upon Denmark at a very early stage of the Championship already.

The more conservative Danish approach saw them stay out of game even when given a second chance. With the cards lying very well for declarer, Flemming Dahl even made 11 tricks but his team had lost 6 IMPs.

Two boards later, the more careful Danish approach brought them rich rewards and rightly so:

Drury worked to French advantage on board 3:

Board: 3. Dealer: South. E/W vul.

♠ 10 6 5 4 3 2 ♥ K 6 ♦ A 7 ♣ Q 5 3	<table border="1" style="border-collapse: collapse; width: 60px; height: 60px; margin: auto;"> <tr><td></td><td style="text-align: center;">N</td><td></td></tr> <tr><td style="text-align: center;">W</td><td></td><td style="text-align: center;">E</td></tr> <tr><td></td><td style="text-align: center;">S</td><td></td></tr> </table>		N		W		E		S		♠ A J 9 8 ♥ 10 8 ♦ Q 9 6 3 2 ♣ 6 4	♠ Q ♥ A Q 7 4 2 ♦ J 5 4 ♣ A 10 9 2

Usually, a 5-4-3-1 shape is enough on which to accept an invitation and this board proved no exception. On the lead of a diamond to the ace and a diamond back declarer played a trump to the ace to minimise the chance of an adverse ruff. As he thus had to lose a trump trick he had committed himself to locating the ♣Q later — which apparently did not cause him any trouble at all. France +420.

The game-forcing 2♦ did not make it easy for the French to convey the hand values to the other side of the screen. As a result they ended up in a slam that stood no chance after a diamond lead, as the entry to dummy's clubs got removed prematurely. Denmark +100.

The old-fashioned Acol Strong Two did a good job for the Danish as they were able to stop at a less dangerous level. When the trump queen misbehaved but the ♠K did not all was well for them, in spite of a marked diamond lead. The score of +650 made it a 13-IMP swing to their favour to take the lead: 19-6.

On board 10, an unusual pre-empt followed by a cunning tactical action by Steen Moller made life very difficult for his opponents:

Board: 10. Dealer: East. All vul.

4♣	All Pass	3♣	Pass

Well, do you like it or not? Peter Lund, known world-wide for his reliable bidding (at least that's what they say about him in Denmark so it must be true), for once fell from grace when he opened 3♣ on only a six-card suit. Next, his partner judged this was the ideal moment for a tactical raise, as he could see that the opponents had to be cold for a high contract in spades.

With the strength (and the spades too, for that matter) nicely divided between the North and South hands neither of them felt they could enter the auction with any sufficient amount of safety so 4♣ became the final contract. When the defence led trumps in time Peter Lund had to go down four but this still could well be a good result for his side. France +400.

Once Stoppa did not preempt with the East hand the Danish had an easy time. South could open his hand after which North could not be kept away from showing his trump support and game-forcing values. Denmark had an easy enough +620 for a 6-IMP gain to lead 28-11 with 6 boards to go.

The French got their revenge on the next board:

Well, the Danish avoided two traps on this one: the easy trap of 3NT and the advanced trap of the 4-3 heart fit, though the 5-1 split might not prove an insuperable problem. In fact, if hearts break 3-3 or 4-2 4♥ looks an excellent contract. When spades were 3-3 their final contract also proved an easy make: Denmark +140.

Once again, the Danish pre-empted on a six-card suit, but this time Stoppa had an easy double:

What is more: after Norris' raise Stoppa could assume club shortness in partner's hand so he confidently enough raised to game which was made without any trouble once Stretz put up the ♠A at trick two! France +400 and 6 IMPs back to trail 28-17 now.

The Danish lead had gone up to 34-17 due to a French game off four top tricks when the final board arrived. For the third time in the match, the question of whether or not to pre-empt in clubs decided the outcome of the hand.

South's forcing pass over 5♦ enabled them to reach a fine slam which duly made when East did not have a singleton club to lead and defeat it. Who cares about a random 1400 flying by? France +980.

East led the four of diamonds and West won with the ace and returned the suit, East winning with the queen. It is hard to spot the winning defence now, which is to switch to a club. When East played a third diamond, declarer could win and play a spade to the jack and queen. She won the heart return with dummy's ten and played ace of spades and a spade, claiming when the defenders could not cash the master diamond. A fast 10 IMPs for Spain.

Over the next 12 boards there were only two swings, both to France, this one giving them the lead:

North obviously converted to no trumps to protect her king of hearts.

East led the four of diamonds and declarer won with the ace and cashed seven rounds of spades, West discarding the two and eight of hearts, the ten of diamonds, the two of clubs and the five of diamonds. Meanwhile East had discarded the seven of diamonds, the nine and five of hearts and the six and nine of diamonds. Declarer cashed the king of clubs and played a club to the...ten — two down as East won and cashed a heart and a diamond.

2006 WOMEN'S BRIDGE FESTIVAL

Under the Auspices of Anna Maria Torlontano
Chairman of the EBL and WBF Women's Committees

RICCIONE

ADRIATIC COAST

EMILIA ROMAGNA REGION- ITALY

26th September — 1st October 2006

The Women's Bridge Festival is dedicated to women bridge players of any level and rank. We offer you five unforgettable days in one of the most attractive place in Italy: Riccione. This event is transnational, which means that the lady players from different countries can play together, and is extended to the women players from outside Europe. Riccione is known as the "Green Pearl" of the Adriatic Coast, for its exclusive atmosphere, elegance and charm, with its typical beach awnings, magnificent gardens and stately villas. The town centre is one of the most famous place in Italy, frequented by artists and VIPs. Shopping and wandering through the fashionable streets, visiting the magnificent surrounding hills, eating in the typical restaurants, together with our favourite sport, bridge, will make your stay unforgettable! There will be individual and pairs tournaments, and friendly bridge in the evenings, as well as a very attractive and interesting programme of tourism.

You will find more information about this delightful event on the EBL web site at www.eurobridge.org or at the WBF web site at www.worldbridge.org or at www.mbwebdesign.nl/riccione.htm or by contacting Anna Gudge (anna@ecats.co.uk)

OPEN TEAMS

Round 14

Norway v Italy & Hungary v Denmark

by Jos Jacobs

Friday, August 18 on paper looked a difficult day for Italy in the Open. They were scheduled to play Norway in the morning and the Netherlands in the evening. So for the Bulletin staff it was an easy day: reports on these two matches certainly had to be written.

On Thursday, Hungary had consolidated their position very well, though they had to play a number of the not so well placed teams. Their Friday programme looked interesting enough too: Denmark in the morning, Sweden in the afternoon and Bulgaria in the evening. So the choice of further matches was even easier: an eye should be kept upon all three!

On the first board there was a swing on both our featured matches but for different reasons. The Italian NS got overactive whereas the Hungarian NS were too passive:

Board: 1. Dealer: North. None vul.

The other match:

Bjarnarson	Honti	Askgard	Szilagy

With the opposition not producing any noises here Hungary had no trouble in reaching an easy enough game and scored another 420, thus earning themselves a 12 IMP swing.

We had to wait until board 11 for the next substantial swing. Apart from that, it also was a remarkable one as for once, Lauria-Versace were completely outbid in the slam department.

Tor Helness, Norway

When Salensminde could show his red twosuit over 2♠ Brogeland was in a position to suggest useful values straight away. Some nice cuebidding at the six-level did the rest.

Well done, Norway a fully deserved +1510 to lead by 16 now.

In the other match, there also was a swing on this board:

Open Room

Versace	Helness	Lauria	Helgemo
Pass	Pass	1♥	Pass
3♦	5♣	5♦	INT
5♥	All Pass		Pass

Maybe, the explanation for all this is that after the INT overcall, showing minors, the meaning of 5♦ was no longer 100% clear. Anyway, Italy registered a rather disappointing +510.

Bjarnarson	Honti	Askgaard	Szilagyi

Maybe, Askgaard could have bid one more for the road as Bjarnarson's jump to slam certainly showed something useful outside hearts too. As it was, the Danish had to be content with +1010.

They actually were in good company as the grand was bid by only 10 pairs in all, including women (4) and seniors (1), not to mention those who went off in 7♦.

Another of those five pairs to reach the grand in the Open series was the Hungarian pair Dumbovich-Winkler:

4♠ was the overture to a nice little series of cuebids at the five-level and that was all Dumbovich needed. Well done by them too, though it earned them only 11 IMPs. At this point, the Hungarians led by 39-16.

Many more quiet boards were to follow but near the end, Lauria rose to the occasion once more:

4♠	All Pass		Pass

This is a perfectly normal spade game in EW and it's perfectly normal to go one down in it, as happened at many tables. Five declarers made 10 tricks by dropping the blank ♠K behind the ace and it's no surprise that one of them was Italian. As his team was still 12 IMPs down at this point, Lauria's moment of magic could not have come at a better time. Italy +620.

Closed Room

Brogeland	Fantoni	Salensminde	Nunes

When the Norwegians did not bid game, the play did not matter any more. Nine tricks were duly made but 10 IMPs had gone to Italy, only 2 down now with just the last board to play. An honourable draw was in the air...but this was the last board:

Board: 20. Dealer: West. All vul.

♠ K 5	♠ 3	♠ Q J 8 7

Open Room

Versace	Helness	Lauria	Helgemo
1♦	1♥	Dble	1♠
4♦	All Pass

Versace's rebid of 4♦ made it virtually impossible for the Norwegians to get to 4♥. Helness could not reasonably rebid a suit of this quality and Helgemo of course could not support his partner on ♥K10 bare. So they allowed Versace to play 4♦ which was one off on the spade ruff. Norway +100.

Miklos Dumbowich, Hungary

Closed Room

West	North	East	South
Brogeland	Fantoni	Salensminde	Nunes
1♦	1♥	1♠	Pass
2♦	2♥	Pass	3♥
4♦	4♥	Dble	All Pass

Brogeland's slower approach made it possible for Fantoni to rebid his suit and now, Nunes could support his partner so the Italians reached game. Understandably, East doubled this, only to find out that the contract could not be beaten.

So Italy had once again managed to conjure up a win, 36-27 or 17-13 VP out of what had looked like another defeat just two boards earlier. Anyway, Norway too had managed to consolidate its position reasonably well.

In the other match, there also was a swing on this last board. It went to Denmark who badly needed it:

Open Room

West	North	East	South
Bjarnarson	Honti	Askgaard	Szilagyi
1♦	1♥	Pass	1♠
2♦	2♥	Pass	Pass
3♦	Pass	Pass	3♥
All Pass

Bjarnarson's approach was even slower than Brogeland, but Honti did not bother to bid game, so Hungary had to be content with +170 only.

Closed Room

West	North	East	South
Winkler	D. Schaltz	Dumbovich	P. Schaltz
4♦	4♥	All Pass

Here, Dorthe Schaltz took the bull by the horns when she overcalled a brave 4♥ over Winkler's nasty 4♦ opening pre-empt. She was rewarded with a suitable dummy and thus managed to make her contract easily enough. Denmark +620 to recoup 10 IMPs, making their final score 49-36 or a win by 18-12 VP to Hungary who therefore had started well on their difficult day.

The field did not distinguish itself here. A sizeable percentage bid to 3NT by West after a strongish no-trump. North of course led a low diamond - the two or three according to choice or system. Declarer of course put up the queen from the board, covered by the king and declarer's six (the ten would have been an interesting diversion --see below).

Now too many of the South player in the field took their eye off the ball, and failed to focus on the size of the minor spot-cards, the six that they had already seen, and dummy's seven. That being the case, if partner had four diamonds your play does not matter, and if your partner has a five-card suit to either the jack-ten or ace-jack-ten your play is equally immaterial. The key is that if declarer has either 106 (or less likely the J6) the suit will potentially be blocked. If you return the diamond nine to unblock the suit, you actually artificially create a blockage -- note partner's irritating 4 3 2 of diamonds. At an absurdly large number of tables 3NT was allowed to make on a diamond lead; (to be precise 3NT was declared 31 times on a diamond lead and made eight times out of 14 in the open series, six times out of eight in the women, and seven times out of nine in the seniors!).

Note the distraction I mentioned earlier; if declarer drops the ten on the first round of the suit he might have J10 doubleton and partner five to the A6. To avoid blocking the suit you must play back the nine, and when declarer follows with the six partner will not need to overtake. The position now becomes clear on the third round of diamonds.

Round 2

Sweden v Denmark

by Mark Horton

Do you believe in conspiracy theories? Having decided to report on this match between the powerful Scandinavian countries I went in search of the hand records. Only one set was missing from the documents in the Press Room — you guessed it — those from this match. Muttering darkly I went in search of an official and in the finest traditions of Monty Python announced ‘I wish to register a complaint.’

My knowledgeable friend suggested that on this occasion a swan might be more useful than a parrot — and right he was, as the records can be found on their excellent web site, www.swangames.com.

Anyway, as it happened I had picked a set of deals that could give you a few grey hairs — luckily the teams are far too young to be any danger of suffering such a fate!

The Danes signalled their intentions by some very aggressive bidding early in the match.

On a club lead declarer would have had to negotiate both red suits, but notwithstanding the implications of the auction North tried the five of spades. Declarer won in dummy and cashed the top hearts. When the queen appeared she could give up a diamond and claim +980.

One Heart promised 8+, and denied a five card major or six clubs.

West led the ten of diamonds and declarer won with the ace and took the losing heart finesse. She ruffed the diamond return, drew trumps and played three rounds of clubs. When East ducked a low spade declarer had twelve tricks, +680.

Over South’s relay of Two Diamonds, Two Hearts was either natural or 24-27 balanced.

I can’t be sure what Two Spades meant — you won’t find it on the convention card — so its not clear what information East had to go on when she selected her opening lead. It proved to be the four of spades and declarer must have been pleased when dummy’s queen held.

She finessed in hearts and when that lost it was up to East to find the diamond switch that would defeat the contract.

Alas she returned a trump and declarer could set up the clubs, +1430, another slam swing for Denmark.

Here South led the seven of clubs and North took the ace. However she switched to the four of hearts and declarer won with the ace and played the king of spades, followed by the queen, South ducking both. She cashed her three club winners, and exited with a spade. South got off play with the queen of hearts and declarer won and played a diamond. South could win and cash the ace of diamonds, but had to surrender the last two tricks to declarer, +400 and 10 badly needed IMPs for Sweden, who trailed 12-38 IMPs.

Unfortunately their troubles were only just beginning, as they conceded 45 IMPs over the next four deals.

The preempt did its work when West — not unreasonably — jumped to slam. (Its becoming popular to play 4NT in this situation as showing two places to play — another possibility is to bid Five Spades with the West hand, although some might consider that should promise first round control. Plenty of scope for partnership discussion here!)

North led the two of hearts and declarer won in dummy and played a diamond. If she puts in the eight or the ten the contract should be made. You cash a top diamond, spade to the ace, ruff a spade, club ace, club to the king, ruff a club, cash two hearts ending in dummy and play a black card to neutralise South's ♦QJ9.

Alas, declarer played the king of diamonds and now there was no way home, -100, 14 IMPs to Denmark.

Back to Seven Hearts, a contract that was reached at more than one table. The question you are all asking is doubtless 'What's the best line?' I have David Burn busy calculating, but you are probably impatient, so, subject to confirmation, probably you should win the spade lead, ruff a spade, cross to the king of hearts, ruff a spade and play the ace and king of diamonds. If they live you simply play to ruff a club high with the ace of hearts. If North can ruff the diamond you are far from dead as you have every chance of squeezing South in the minors.

There will doubtless be more to say on this later.

Marek Wójcicki

Przeglądając kolejno rozdanie po rozdaniu, zapis po zapisie rzuciła mi się w oczy spora ilość zapisów czterocyfrowych, niejednokrotnie pojawiających się w najbardziej nieoczekiwanych momentach. Myślę, że w miarę upływu czasu i narastającego znużenia graczy, z takimi zapisami będziemy mieli do czynienia coraz częściej. Aby właściwie uhonorować największych „walczaków” postanowiłem sporządzić ranking katastrof, bazujący na wysokości oddanych zapisów. Ponieważ wymowa tych cyfr będzie wystarczająca, ograniczę się do podania samego przebiegu wydarzeń, bez komentarza.

Polska drużyna kobieca rozpoczęła od meczu z drużyną Rosji. Rosjanki od kilku lat są na fali wznoszącej – już na mistrzostwach Europy par i teamów w Menton zaprezentowały się bardzo dobrze, a ukoronowaniem ich sukcesów było zwycięstwo w Olimpiadzie w Stambule. Nasze panie nie uległy się renomy przeciwniczek i wygrały mecz 19–11 (52–32). Oto kilka rozdań, które zadecydowały o tym wyniku:
